La legge 180, unica al mondo, ha abolito i manicomi demandando l'onere e il compito di gestire i pazienti psichiatrici ai servizi territoriali, ai reparti psichiatrici ospedalieri, ai dipartimenti di salute mentale e alle famiglie.

Per realizzare tale obiettivo, è importante che i dipartimenti di salute mentale lavorino coordinati all'interno di una rete che dia risposte efficaci: dalla gestione della crisi, alla riabilitazione del paziente stesso, aiutando il gravoso compito delle famiglie e supportando anche economicamente i vari attori del sistema.

Nasce da questi presupposti l'evento "TAVOLO REGIONALE SCHIZOFRENIA – FOCUS CAMPANIA", promosso da Motore

quando si individuano dei soggetti ad altissimo rischio di sviluppo di schizofrenia. Gli sforzi della programmazione regionale sono orientati a ridisegnare le strategie operative, tese ad arrestare la transizione dalle forme ad alto rischio alla malattia conclamata, o a migliorare il decorso del disturbo.

Puntare sui giovani, quindi, sui loro linguaggi e capire gli stili di vita ed i valori dominanti, per riuscire a decodificare quali sono i veri fattori di rischio e quali, invece i fattori di protezione”.

Pensa ai giovani, in particolare alle loro famiglie, anche Carmela Bravaccio, Professore di neuropsichiatria infantile Azienda Ospedaliera Universitaria Federico II di Napoli: “Non bisogna dimenticare che la sintomatologia spesso comincia da bambini e che il ruolo delle famiglie è importantissimo. Purtroppo una delle problematiche è che spesso le famiglie non vengono supportate. Diventa quindi difficile a sua volta la gestione, perché si pensa solo al ragazzo (il malato-paziente) e ci si dimentica che dietro c'è una famiglia che lo deve supportare. Se non mettiamo in condizione le famiglie di aiutarle nella gestione del quotidiano di questi ragazzi, diventa tutto più difficile”.
